

COOKERY & HOSPITALITY

COOK UP A VERSATILE CAREER!

QAT final assessment day at the QAT kitchen.

QAT arranges the practical placement for its student in one of Brisbane's best hotel and restaurants, for example:

The placement can be:

A pre approved workplace and/or workplace which you are already employed.

Our cookery and hospitality programmes have been structured to provide students with more opportunities to undertake work placements to be a chef. This assists students to attain the requirement number of hours work experience helping them to meet the eligibility requirements for the 458 Temporary Graduate Visa (we arrange up to 400 hours of work experience for our students at high class hotel or fine restaurants).

Please note that during a student's Industry Placement he or she will be visited and assessed by an Assessor from QAT. The student will also need to complete an Industry Placement Work Log to demonstrate that he or she has a acquired work experience across multiple areas of the curinary & hospitality industry.

This excludes any fast food or takeaway food establishment.*
